

Danderine

Grows Hair and we can PROVE IT!

DANDERINE is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow abundantly long, strong and beautiful. It at once imparts a sparkling brilliancy and velvety softness to the hair, and a few weeks' use will cause new hair to sprout all over the scalp. Use it every day for a short time, after which two or three times a week will be sufficient to complete whatever growth you desire.

A lady from St. Paul writes in substance, as follows:

"When I began using Danderine my hair would not come to my shoulders and now it is away below my hips."

Another from Newark, N. J.

"I have been using Danderine regularly. When I first started to use it I had very little hair, now I have the most beautiful long and thick hair anyone would want to have."

NOW at all druggists in three sizes 25c, 50c and $1.00 per bottle

Danderine enjoys a greater sale than any other one preparation regardless of kind or brand, and it has a much greater sale than all of the other hair preparations in the world combined.

WALSH CASE IN FEDERAL COURT

Aged Banker Has Hopes of Escaping Term in United States Prison.

SEEKS TO PERFECT APPEAL

ARGUMENT WILL BE HEARD BY BENCH OF THREE JUDGES.

Chicago, May 8.—Arguments of the government in opposition to the attempt of John R. Walsh, under sentence to five years' imprisonment for alleged misapplication of the funds of his bank, the defunct Chicago National, to obtain freedom of appeal to the United States circuit court of appeals are contained in the brief filed today by Assistant District Attorney Fletcher Doherty, in reply to the brief filed by counsel for the defendant a month ago. The Walsh banks, the Chicago National, the Equitable Trust company and the Home Savings, closed their doors Dec. 18, 1907. Walsh was indicted two years later on 182 counts. A year later the case came to trial in the United States district court, and a verdict finding the defendant guilty on fifty-four counts was rendered. Judge Anderson sentenced Walsh to five years at Fort Leavenworth.

The appeal followed. Oral arguments will be heard by Judges Grosscup, Baker and Seaman the last week in the month.

Losses of $16,000,000.

It is said that the Walsh failure caused losses to himself, stockholders and others aggregating $16,000,000. Counsel for Walsh contended in his brief that the loans made by Walsh and his purchases of bonds of his own railroad with the bank's money were legitimate transactions, made for the benefit of the bank and without loss to the bank.

"That counsel should seriously make such statement of fact to this court," retorts the government brief, "can be explained only by the necessities of the case."

The brief contends that Mr. Walsh's intention was not, as president of the bank, in good faith to make good loans and investments for the bank, but rather to get the funds of the bank to promote his personal enterprises and to conceal the real nature of his act.

"Mr. Walsh," says the brief, "was engaged in the promotion of a large number of struggling enterprises which were in desperate need of funds. Generally speaking, his mode of procedure was:

Method of Walsh.

"He would learn of some enterprise that was bankrupt, or about to go into bankruptcy, and he would purchase it at a low price. He would then organize a corporation and sell the enterprise to this corporation, taking in payment the capital stock of the new corporation and a sufficient number of bonds which at their face value would more than reimburse him for the price originally paid for the property. If the enterprise was successful, Mr. Walsh made the profit and the bank got its interest on the bonds. If the enterprise did fail, Mr. Walsh lost nothing and the bank lost the amount of the investment."

"When the banks closed Mr. Walsh had taken about $16,000,000 of their funds for his personal speculation, yet his name appeared nowhere on the books as debtor or borrower, and the true state of affairs was not discovered until the exhaustive examination was made by the experts who were put in control of the affairs of the banks by the comptroller of the currency."

"The investigation developed the fact that there was, of course, no market for the bonds which Walsh issued on his struggling enterprises, and that he made a market out of his bank where he placed the bonds at anywhere from 90 to par. In this way Mr. Walsh would raise the money to pay for a property by selling its own bonds."

"ONE BOY IS WORTH $50,000"

This statement was made by a contributor to an eastern Y. M. C. A. Mr. Wm. J. Bryan, who heard the remark and is responsible for the story, asked if the speaker really meant that one boy was worth half a hundred thousand dollars. Quick as a flash came the answer:

"YES, IF IT'S MY BOY."

YOU FATHERS—(1) What value do you set on your boys? (2) What are all the boys of this city worth? (3) But how do you KNOW that they won't turn out shiftless and WORTHLESS?

IF YOUR FAILURE to give—or not give enough—causes the Y. M. C. A. to cease its work, WHERE will boys find the RECREATION and COMPANIONSHIP which city boys will have?

You cannot scold your boy for breaking the law and visiting questionable pool rooms, etc., if the Y. M. C. A. is closed. That institution is now the helpful club for 761 boys. FOR YOUR OWN BOY'S PROTECTION you must see to it that EVERYBODY GIVES TO HIS LIMIT
